Never Mind What "They "Say.

Don't worry and fret, About what people think ... Of your ways or your means-Of your food or your drink. If you know you are doing Your best every day, With the right on your side, Never mind what "they" say.

Lay out in the morning Your plans for each hour, And never forget That old time is a power, This also remember 'Mong truths old and new-The world is too busy To think much of you.

Then garner the minutes That make up the Lours. And pluck in your pilgrimage Honor's bright flowers. Should grumblers assure you Your course will not pay, With conscience at rest, Never mind what "they" say.

Too many have loitered, Until the ebb tide, While seeking opinions From those at their side, Too many good swimmers Have chosen to sink, Because they are martyrs To "what people think."

Then let us, forgetting The insensate throng, That joistles us daily While marching along, Press onward and upward, And make no delay-And though people talk, Never mind what "they" say.

[From the Constitution.] ARP'S THANKSGIVING.

A Day full of Thanksgivings and Joy

Thanksgiving day was bright and lovely. The blessed sun gave us a warm and genial light all the day long. The fields so green with tender wheat seemed happier for the day and made a beautiful contrast with the autumn leaves that still linger upon the trees One square (1 inch) 1 insertion.....75c that adorn the hills and mountains around us. It was a Obituaries over 12 lines charged for, good day to give thanks in the country as well as the town. We dident have Correspondents, to insure attention, any turkey at our house, but we had a good dinner, nevertheless, and Mrs. Arp made an old-fashioned sliced potato pie with her own little number two hands, and when she makes a pic it is always fit for a king. At least it is salubrious and respectful to say so, and I always do it. Thanksgiving day is one of the mile stones that mark the journey of life. > Thanksgiving day is the day for the nation to observe—for there is no sect or class or color who can reasonably refuse to be thankful once a year. Some folks do not respect the Sabbath, some have no reverence for Christmas, some care nothing for the 4th of July or St Patricks day, or the passover, but any man or woman, or child, who is out of jail and has enough to eat can afford to be thankful and ought to be thankful. If a man does not believe in God or immortality he can still be thankful—thankful to nature and her beneficent laws—thankful for sunlight and air and water, and the seasons that
